

Elinor Scricca, Ph.D.

Education

When Elinor Coraretti Scricca, graduated from Collinwood High School in 1949, she was voted “Most Likely to Succeed.”

She attended the Flora Stone Mather College of Western Reserve University and graduated Magna Cum Laude, with a degree in French, Spanish, and Education, as well as a four-year Superintendent Certificate. She went on to earn a Masters in French and Spanish and a Doctoral Degree in Education and Curriculum Administration.

Elinor taught in Northeast Ohio School systems for a number of years and in 1987 she was appointed as the first female Superintendent of Ashtabula Area City Schools. Elinor is a woman of many talents and has held a variety of positions in the realm of education: Program Development, Public Speaking Director, Management and Human Resources Director, Director of Instruction, Director of Elementary Education, and Superintendent in the Ashtabula City School District.

Elinor is a member of the Lee County School Board in Florida, where she resides with her husband Domenic. They are the proud parents of two daughters and grandparents of one granddaughter.